WHAT IS A CLASS ACTION?

A class action is a lawsuit filed by one person on behalf of a large group of people.

WHAT IS THIS CLASS ACTION ABOUT?

A national class action has been certified in Alberta in connection with the recall of onions, being Court of Queen’s Bench of Alberta Action No. 2003 14303 (the “Class Action”).

The Class Action alleges that Thomson International Inc. did not meet industry standards with respect to the production and distribution of onions with the result that Salmonella contaminated onions entered the marketplace and some Canadians consumed the onions, became ill or died.

Symptoms associated with Salmonella may include stomach cramps, nausea, vomiting, gastroenteric issues, kidney dysfunction and other serious consequences.

As well, the Class Action seeks recovery for economic losses for persons, including corporations, who purchased recalled onions or onion products and for persons, including corporations, who disposed of onions or onion products due to the recall.

The claims have not been proven and the Defendant denies any fault or liability and will vigorously defend the action.

WHO IS AFFECTED BY THE CLASS ACTION?

The Class Action has been certified on behalf of the following "Class" or "Class Members", as:

All persons in Canada who:

- i. consumed Recalled Onions or Onion Products and suffered a physical illness or injury or died;

You will not be permitted to bring other legal proceedings in relation to the matters alleged in the Class Action against the Defendant. Conversely, if you are a Class Member who opts out of the Class Action (an “Opt-Out Party”), you will not be able to make a claim in the Class Action but will maintain the right to pursue your own claim against the Defendant relating to the matters alleged in the Class Action. Your right to pursue a claim in a separate proceeding will not be effected, but any limitation period (i.e. a time limit in which you must commence a claim) that was paused by the commencement of the class proceedings will resume running from the date of the opt-out.

If you are a Class Member and wish to opt out, you must submit an election to do so, together with required supporting documentation (“Opt-Out Election”), to Class Counsel.
